PROGIS AFRICA FUND

PROGIS Intl's vision is to achieve high respect and wealth for the people of Africa. Our vision is that in the future, when African families go to Europe, they are not considered to be a burden, but instead as respectable tourists and businessmen- their visits seen as a positive to their economy, instead of a negative.

PROGIS International is launching an Africa Fund to develop a number of sectors, but specifically focused on the agriculture sector to grow corn, rice, beans, sorghum, fruits, vegetables, and many others for domestic sale, thus saving the foreign exchange for the relevant country and also for export to Europe, where land is getting scarcer and where the use of chemicals has destroyed the productivity of the land.

PROGIS Intl is in discussion with a few countries in Africa where they can acquire land for agriculture purposes. It also has ready Agro- professional teams with decades of experience to run the fields and to deliver the best production yields.

It also has buyers for the grown products, thus giving a great return to the investors in the Fund, eventually creating tens of thousands of jobs while contributing economically to the country.

Europe currently spends tens of billions of euros to either spend on immigrants and refugees or keeping them away from entering.

Part of that finance to make a prosperous Africa and its countries will not only save significant financial resources for Europe but also add significant value to Europe's economy through agriculture, environment, culture, tourism, financial services, create jobs and lot more
